

The following concepts and maps are provided as informational as a possible regional solution for several adjacent and hydrologically connected areas.

It represents an alternative and creative solution to a very complex and difficult problem. As we seek to find an equitable and affordable approach to the declining groundwater challenge, we welcome all ideas.

